DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The proposed drawing correction and/or the proposed substitute sheets of drawings, filed on 10/03/2002 have been approved. A proper drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The correction to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
 The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- 3. Claims 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
 - a. The phrase "between about" renders claims to be indefinite. The applicant is respectfully requested to be more specific about the range for the numeric aperture. It is unclear if the applicant means an approximate lower range and a definite upper range or an approximate lower and an approximate upper range.
 - b. Claims 7-8 fall with parent claim 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chambers et al. in view of Adventures in Fiber Optics Kit by Industrial Fiber Optics, Inc.

Chambers et al. (US Patent Number 5,626,410) discloses a projection screen (48) for displaying an image (50) from an image source (52), comprising a first diffusing assembly including a pre-screen (42) comprising at least a faceplate (40) and a second diffusing assembly comprising a diffused rear projection screen (36), including an anti-reflection coating (46) on a viewing side of said projection screen (column 4, lines 21-23), comprising fibers having a numeric aperture within a range of 0.2-0.66 (column 4, lines 1-3).

Chambers et al. teaches the salient features of the present invention, except an optical faceplate of fibrous crystal, wherein the material of said optical faceplate is a lab-grown Ulexite.

Adventures in Fiber Optics Kit by Industrial Fiber Optics, Inc. discloses an optical faceplate of fibrous crystal (page 9, lines 26-28), wherein the material of said optical faceplate (page 10, last paragraph) is Ulexite (page 9, lines 14-16).

Application/Control Number: 09/751,357

Art Unit: 2851

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to utilize the Ulexite optical faceplate disclosed by Adventures in Fiber Optics Kit by Industrial Fiber Optics, Inc. in combination with Chambers et al.'s invention, for the purpose of transferring the image to be displayed.

Furthermore, it is well known in the art the development of different methods for growing crystals in a laboratory. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to utilize a lab-grown crystal for the purpose of having the ability and advantage to obtain better quality crystals, than the ones found in nature, and having a steady supply of said crystals.

Response to Arguments

- 4. Applicant's arguments filed 10/03/2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
- 5. The examiner has reviewed MPEP 2173.05(b)(A) as well as Ex Parte Eastwood, 163 USPQ 316. In Eastwood it was found that the term "about" in claiming use of an "area of between 25 to about 45%" was not indefinite. The present application differs from Eastwood in that Eastwood had a definite lower range and an approximate upper range. In the present application it is unclear if the applicant has an approximate lower range and a definite upper range or if both upper and lower numbers are approximates.
- 6. Applicant has alleged that one of ordinary skill in the art would be able to ascertain the numerical aperture range by reading the specification. However, the specification just repeats what is recited in the claims. If one of ordinary skilled in the art would understand the range upon reading the specification, the applicant, being of at least one ordinary skilled in the art, if not extraordinary skilled in the art, should be able to explain to clarify for the examiner what is meant by a range about 0.20-0.66.

Clarification is respectfully requested.

The use of the term "about" is acceptable especially when used to account for manufacturing tolerances. If this is at least one of the purposes for using this relative term, acknowledgement of such will be sufficient to overcome the rejection under the 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. The applicant would still need to clarify if both upper and lower numbers are approximate.

- 7. The applicant has argued that the motivation of the examiner to combine the references is "a mere conclusory statement of subjective belief". However, Adventures in Fiber Optics Kit by Industrial Fiber Optics, Inc. teaches "the purpose of transferring the image to be displayed". This is taught on page 9, lines 18-20.
- 8. In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).
- 9. The applicant has argued that the prior art does not suggest "any other faceplate could be used". However, Adventures in Fiber Optics Kit by Industrial Fiber Optics, Inc. teaches the equivalency between the fiber optic array (i.e. fiber bundles) and the faceplates. This is taught on page 10, last paragraph.

Art Unit: 2851

10. The applicant argues that Chambers et al. teaches away from using a faceplate because it teaches embodiments with a faceplate and embodiments without a faceplate. Just because there is one embodiment without a faceplate does not mean that the reference teaches away from using a faceplate. The fact that one embodiment teaches the use of a faceplate shows that it was known to use the Chambers invention with a faceplate. The fact that there are different embodiments is evidence of the versatility of the Chambers invention and the anticipation of modifications for the Chambers invention.

- 11. On page 5 of the October 3, 2002 response the applicant once again alleges that there is no motivation to combine the references. As stated supra, the motivation may be found at page 9 of the Adventures in Fiber Optics Kit by Industrial Fiber Optics, Inc. reference.
- 12. The final argument presented is that the Adventures in Fiber Optics Kit by Industrial Fiber Optics, Inc. teaches away from using Ulexite because it has no commercial use. The reasoning is a statement that "Ulexite is a low grade boron source with no commercial use." The rest of the article is in itself proof of a commercial use for Ulexite since the rest of the article suggests using Ulexite. See for example page 9, lines 46-47.

The examiner further notes that it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Application/Control Number: 09/751,357

Art Unit: 2851

Conclusion

13. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure, including parole evidence of the commercial value of Ulexite.

Konishi (US Patent Number 6,243,082 B1) discloses a display apparatus comprising a transparent or translucent display plate, such as Ulexite.

Nougaret, et al. (US Patent Number 6,476,378 B1) teaches an optical device made of a bundle of optical fibers, a fibrous crystal, or a glass mosaic.

14. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
